SECOND SUNDAY of ADVENT YEAR A Ps2 7th December, 2025 (Pg85)

The Gospel reading of this second Sunday of Advent is all about John the Baptist, who warns and exhorts his people, now us, not only to prepare a way for the Lord, the promised one and to make his paths straight, but also to repent because the Kingdom of God is close at hand. John the Baptist was an ascetic in the wilderness. He was clothed with camel's hair, with a leather belt around his waist and he ate locusts and wild honey. Certainly, John wasn't a crazy man. But what God wanted through him was to announce the imminence of the Kingdom of God. To warn the people that God is close at hand. And the way of God should be prepared. He preached the urgency of conversion and a baptism of repentance. He didn't want his people to perish.

Thus, the message for this season of Advent is: to repent and to change. Change and repentance go together and they are at the centre of the Christian life. Jesus himself demands us to change in almost all his preaching. Therefore, a Christian life involves daily repentance and a change. Repentance is being sorry both for our sinful condition and for our own specific sins; it is the work of the Holy Spirit and is part of sanctification. Let us always remember that Advent is a time for prayer, especially family prayer.

CONFessions St Patrick: Saturday after 10.00 Mass

Archbishop John's Advent 2025 reflection.

This Advent, Archbishop John is calling us to reflect on the "astonishing truth" that the "Lord Jesus is, and always will be, Emmanuel: God with us, God beside us, God within us". In a video reflection, Archbishop John said that: "to say God is with us is not poetry but power. It means that the Lord Jesus stepped into our humanity so that we might step into his divinity. It means that God is no distant deity, but one who draws near; who shares our joys and carries our sorrows; who opens heaven to earth, and earth to heaven". You can watch his full reflection at rcaos.org.uk/advent2025.
